

SHEDS

(AND MOST ACCESSORY STRUCTURES)

Call it a tool shack, she shed, or chicken palace...

It still needs a permit!

Pre-constructed detached buildings (aka sheds) require:

- *A dwelling on the property
- *Approval from the Planning Division
- *Inspections from the Building Division

Unless the structure is 200 sq ft for less than 2 acres or 400 sq ft for 2 acres or over...but you'll still need a site plan from the Planning Division. Restrictions apply! Check with the Planning Division to verify zoning and other criteria.
